Tuesday, July 31. 1722.

Danzick, July 15.

SOME Muscovite Officers here, attempted to carry off Prince Gallitzan, but were opposed by the Magistrates till they had given Security for Payment of the Debts he owes in this City. Letters from Petersbourg say, that the Russian Fleet under Admiral Gordon being victualled only for six Weeks, and there being no Troops on board, 'tis believed it will not sail beyond Revel, but will keep in those Seas merely to discipline the Sailors. The Dutchess of Mecklenberg is proceeding on her Journey to Petersbourg: It is said, the Duke and Dutchess had a severe Falling-out before she left this City, nevertheless, they seemed to be reconciled before they parted: The Duke waits the Return of Captain Berger from Petersbourg before he fixes a Resolution either as to going from hence or continuing here longer; but as to his accommodating with the Nobility, he shews no sort of Disposition towards it, and 'tis believed will rather retreat to Riga.

Warsaw, July 18. Velt-Marshal Fleming arrived here this Morning; as are also several Bishops, in order to possess the Benefices that are become vacant. Publick Affairs of this Kingdom seem hitherto to be very quiet, and the Poles of all Ranks are preparing to meet at the General Diet in October next.

Vienne, July 18. The Prince of Lorraine who is in Silesia to take Possession of the Principality lately given him by the Emperour, was invited by his Imperial Majesty to come to Presbourg, which the Prince civilly excused, alledging the great Fatigue of his late Journey to Silesia. The Abbe d'Avellino will be soon released from his Confinement, no Proof yet appearing of his being concerned in the illegal Correspondence which was laid to his Charge. The States of Transilvania sent no Deputies to the Diet at Presbourg, but they have presented Complaints to Court of the heavy Taxes they are burthened with. Several Ladies are lately gone from hence for Lisbon, to be received into the Queen of Portugal's Service.

Frankfort, July 19. The Emperour having lately sent his Commission to the Hereditary Prince of Hesse-Darmstadt, appointing him to be Lieutenant-Field-Marshal, 'tis said his Highness has thereupon resolved to raise a Regiment of Dragoons of 800 Men, at his own Expence, for his Imperial Majesty's Service. The Congress of the Circle of the Upper Rhine being drawn to a Conclusion, and all their Resolutions signed and registred, the Deputies will set out from hence next Week to return to their respective Principals. The Elector of Cologne purposes to go to the Court of Bavaria in few Weeks.

Copenhagen, July 21. The King of Denmark having ordered all the Crew belonging to the Pommerania-Frigate to be continued in Pay, 'tis believed that Vessel will shortly be appointed to carry his Majesty to view the Island of Bornholm. The farming the Excise of Norway is agreed upon, it wants only his Majesty's Ratification. Provisions are very plentiful in this City, and cheaper than they have been for a good while past.

Hambourg, July 24. The Commissaries appointed to give Judgment in the Affair of Count Rantzau being gone back to Rendsbourg, a Danish Majesty's Councillour and Resident M. Ha-guedorn will go thither likewise, to give certain Explications of the Case to the Judges: The Advocate M. Groten is appointed Colleague with M. Peterman, the Fiscal Officer, who have conjointly prepared Matters for the Tryal, and drawn up the interrogatory Articles to which the Count must give Answer. It is true, that the Count de Metlich has no Orders to interpose on Behalf of Count Rantzau, but 'tis said that Count Freytag has Orders to complain to the Court of Denmark, that certain Danish Officers have apprehended Persons in the County of Rantzau; but that Circumstance is judged to be without Foundation. The Duke of Retswick's chief Councillour being arrived at the Danish Court, it will soon appear in what Manner the two contending Parties will accommodate about the Succession to the Dutchy of Ploen; the King of Denmark has absolutely declared, he will wholly Favour that Side which is proved to have the most Right. The Deputies in the Commission of Mecklenbourg have ordered such Persons as have been distressed by the Duke, and damaged in their Territories by Russian Troops, to deliver in an Estimate of their Losses, attested by Oath, it being the Emperour's Pleasure that they shall have ample Reparation. Baron Eicholtz, the Duke of Mecklenbourg's Grand Marshal, having considerable Arrears due to him from the Duke, has obtained an Imperial Decree, requiring his Highness to pay him, or to shew sufficient Cause to the contrary in two Months.

Hambourg, July 31. Letters from Moscow give an Account, that the Czar has received three Expresses at Astracan from the King of Persia, desiring Assistance against his three Sons who have deposed him: Offering in Recompence abundance of Money, Advantages in Commerce, and Possession of the best Ports of the Caspian Sea. Those Letters add, that the Czar is determined to succour the King of Persia, and has sent him such Notice by an Officer, who is set out to that purpose from Astracan with the three Persian Expresses. Advices from Constantinople say, that the Turks have commanded 60000 Men to the Assistance of that Monarch.

Paris, Aug. 5. 'Tis assured, that in the Space of two Months past, the Ships of Malta took and brought into that Port 11 Barbary Corsairs, and among them, two of Tunis, one of 46, and the other of 36 Guns, from on board of which 617 Turks were made Slaves, and set to work about the Fortifications of the Island. All the Knights of the Order of the Cross are summoned to defend the Island, those belonging to Provence and Auvergne are excepted, by reason of the Contagion. M. de Mesmes, the Maltese Ambassador Extraordinary, caused all the Knights and Commanders who are here, to attend him Yesterday at Nine a Clock in the Great Hall of Ambassadors at Versailles, to accompany him to his Audience of the King, in which he notified to his Majesty the Decease of the late Grand Master, and the Election of a new one. After the Audience was ended, the Ambassador and his Company having on the Habits of their Order, with Badges according to their respective Degrees, were nobly entertained at Dinner at the Table of Ambassadors; and that being over, the Ambassador went to St. Cloud, attended in like Manner by the Knights, and had Audience of the Dutchess of Orleans. It is said, the King is to be confirmed on the 9th Instant, and will receive the Holy Sacrament for the first Time on the approaching proaching Festival of our Lady's Assumption. The young Count de Rambures is sent to the Bastille for some Fault committed by him with other young Noblemen, who are also commanded to withdraw from Versailles. The Benedictines of Rheims have chosen for their Prior a Person who is not an Appellant; they did this, in order not to lose the Honour of carrying the St. Ampoule at the King's Coronation. A Writing consisting of 12 Pages is privately handed about here, endeavouring to prove, that in good Policy the King's Confessor ought not to be chosen out of any Convent, or other Religious Society: Strict Enquiry is made in Discovery of the Author.
